Local Lawmen Sound Warning Concerning Use of Fireworks

"The sale and use of fireworks are illegal in the State of Ohio," Pickaway County Sheriff W. Walton Spangler and Chief of Police Robert Temple reminded the public today.

The local law heads issued the warning with the approach of the July 4 holiday. Both said their officers will be on the lookout for violators.

Chief Temple said, "The use or sale of explosive type fireworks carries a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $500. Violators will be arrested, he added.

Temple reported that every year a few fireworks have been purchased out-of-state and brought here. He said this also is illegal.

THE Chief pointed out that one arrest was made last year within the city for the sale of fireworks. Sheriff Spangler said permits may be issued for public fireworks displays, such as to drive-in-theater and clubs.

"Anyone seeking to put on a public display of fireworks, aerial or ground, must have a permit," Spangler said. "Although permits may be issued the firework displays must be closely supervised," he added.

The sheriff explained that the law does not govern toy pistols, guns and caps. He also reported that "sparklers" are on the legal list.

If merchants should be in doubt as to the legality of certain types of fireworks they should contact the sheriff's department or police station before attempting to sell or use them.

Discontent Up In Latin Area, Adlai Reports

Envoy Tells Kennedy Economic Situation Is Growing Worse

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson reported to President Kennedy today that he found increasing discontent and a worsening economic situation during his 18-day tour of South America.

Stevenson told newsmen after reporting to the President on his journey to 10 South American capitals that the situation in that part of the hemisphere has deteriorated since he traveled through the same area a year ago.

But, Stevenson added, "There is more universal awareness of the necessity for making social reforms in all of these countries."

Stevenson said the U.S. role in the Cuban invasion was unpopular in South America, where "the principle of nonintervention is a religion."

Stevenson, on the other hand, said the alliance for progress program enunciated by Kennedy to raise economic and social standards throughout the southern half of the hemisphere is generally regarded as "the dawn of a new day in our relations."

Kennedy sent the U.N. ambassador on a whirlwind tour of all 10 South American countries to get a sounding on the administration's alliance for progress program. Stevenson's mission also was to find out what kind of reception the Communist-oriented Castro regime in Cuba was getting.

"We found a tremendous interest and hope in the alliance for progress," Stevenson said on his arrival Thursday night in Washington. "The conviction is universal that more rapid social and economic development is imperative."

And, on communism, Stevenson said: "If there was any idea that communism in Cuba is only a problem for the United States, I believe we dispelled this illusion."

Stevenson said he found meager support for the Cuban prime minister but "a broad feeling for social reform."

Earlier, in a brief stopover in Puerto Rico, Stevenson said the economic and social situation in Latin America had deteriorated since his long journey south of the border last year.

"The poor and hungry man, awakening to the knowledge of a better life, will not stand back and wait forever," Stevenson remarked.

He said the trip was "successful in all respects," and he was met everywhere with an extraordinary welcome and hospitality.

Anti-U.S. Red Order Delayed By Jurist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Frankfurter of the Supreme Court granted today a stay of effectiveness of the court's decision that the Communist party must register as a tool of Moscow.

The stay was granted after the party filed a petition asking the high court to reconsider its decision, announced June 5.

The court is now in summer adjournment. Its order to lower courts to make the ruling effective was scheduled for issuance today. Frankfurter's stay defers it until the justices act on the petition for reconsideration. Thus the June 5 decision likely will remain ineffective until at least Oct. 9.

Communist party officials declared after the June 5 decision that they did not plan to register with the Justice Department. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said proceedings against the party would be started Aug. 9. Frankfurter's stay also has the effect of deferring this Justice Department action.

His deferment was opposed by the Justice Department, explained to him in a memorandum.

Frankfurter was the author of the June 5 decision. It upheld the constitutionality of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

Counsel for the Communist party, in their petition for reconsideration, said that the Supreme Court's decision "on the basis of legislative findings without regard to the record facts and findings, destroys the protection of the first amendment. It permits the legislature to outlaw any dissident political group simply by making approbrious findings."

Castro Seeks New Parley In Tractor Exchange Deal

'UNITY' — The three rival princes of Laos asked King Savang Vathana (above) to establish a "government of national unity." Experts believe the neutralists and pro-Communists had scored a victory over the pro-western government.

Laos Conferees Awaiting King

Monarch To Select New Government

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The East-West conference on Laos appeared destined today to dawdle along doing little until King Savang Vathana picks a new government for the strife-torn nation.

The prevailing view is that Prince Souvann Phouma, self-styled neutralist backed by the Communists, is sure to be named premier. But unless the normal pace of developments in Laos is accelerated, that won't happen for weeks.

The job of forming a new cabinet was thrown to the Laotian king Thursday by the three princes who head the warring factions in the little Southeast Asian country.

They ended a four-day conference at Zurich with a vague statement calling for national unity and a decision to let the king name a coalition government.

They stipulated only that all three factions—pro-Western conservatives, pro-Communist Pathet Lao and neutralists—must be represented but did not specify how the power should be divided.

Delegates from 13 other nations marked time here all week hoping the princes would produce a coalition government to represent Laos at the conference and tell it what the Laotians themselves will agree to.

The main points of the agreement signed by the princes represented important concessions by Western-backed Premier Prince Boun Oum.

King Savang favors Boun Oum and dislikes Souvanna Phouma and his half-brother and ally, Prince Souphanouvong, chief of the Pathet Lao rebels.

19-Year-Old Boy Sentenced To Die

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 19-year-old youth today was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the holdup slaying of a druggist last March 4.

Sentenced was Clarence V. Ferguson, who has admitted shooting Benjamin Kaufman in his drug store.

Indicted on two counts of first degree murder, Ferguson entered a plea of guilty to homicide after a common pleas jury started hearing the case.

Judge J. P. Corrigan then dismissed the jury, and evidence was heard by a three-judge panel. The judge said today the panel voted 2-1 for a finding of guilty or first degree murder.

West To Step Up Defenses In Europe, Defend Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West is planning to step up its defenses in Europe as evidence of its determination to stand firm on Berlin.

High-ranking officials, in reporting this today, referred to the seriously worded statement Secretary of State Dean Rusk made at his news conference Thursday. He blamed the Soviets for the tension in the world and restated the Western position on Berlin.

No Soviet action, Rusk said, can extinguish the right of the Western powers in Berlin. Western forces are to remain in the divided German city, he added, and no peaceful solution can be reached at the expense of Western obligations in Berlin.

"The United States and those associated with us are clear and firm about our obligations to ourselves and to the people of West Berlin," Rusk said.

The Western powers, informants said, are planning to quicken the beefing up of Atlantic alliance forces in Europe and to increase their state of readiness. This will be done quietly and without fanfare but in a way that should serve as notice to the Soviets.

The thinking behind this strategy is, officials explained, that Soviet Premier Khrushchev does not seem to have been sufficiently impressed by the warnings President Kennedy repeatedly has made. In the past, it is recalled, the Soviet Union often paid attention to a show of force where words were of no avail.

Meanwhile, the United States continues consultations with its allies on the U.S. reply to Khrushchev's June 4 aide memoire on Berlin. The consultations started in Washington last week when Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state for Europe, conferred with Sir Evelyn Shuckberg of the British Foreign Office and with Jean Lalois, French specialist on German affairs.

The State Department now is waiting for advice from Paris and London through normal diplomatic channels and the U.S. reply to the Soviet note is expected to be ready in about a week or 10 days.

Before that, however, Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, will have returned to his post. He is due back on the job next Monday after Washington consultations.

It is expected that Thompson will have the opportunity to see Khrushchev and make the U.S. position clear before the American reply reaches Moscow.

In his statement on Berlin on Thursday, Rusk said that the "militant tone" Khrushchev used in a speech Wednesday was disappointing. State Department specialists on Soviet affairs are now trying to find reasons for the sudden toughening in Khrushchev's language.

This change also puzzles Washington diplomats, including some from behind the Iron Curtain. Both American and foreign observers concede that their answers are based mainly on speculation.

Here are the reasons, as listed by the best available sources, for Khrushchev's blunt aggressive language:

1. The Soviet leader has to produce something tangible to satisfy the Soviet Communist party congress when it convenes next October. There are still influential party members who side with the Red Chinese and consider the Khrushchev line in international politics too soft.

2. There is sufficient basis to believe that Khrushchev got only a limited time at the last conference of Communist parties in Moscow last November to prove that his coexistence policy can achieve the sacred goal, the spread of the Communist doctrine, without wars.

3. According to another school of thought, voiced by some diplomats in Washington, Khrushchev is still probing to find out how far he can go in brinkmanship. He is making a last effort to see whether he can find a weak spot in Kennedy's armor.

Dr. Sam To Undergo Exams To See If He Now Has Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Convicted wife slayer Dr. Sam Sheppard will be returned to Ohio Penitentiary here today and undergo tests to determine if a lump on his chest was caused by cancer.

The former osteopathic surgeon, an inmate at the Marion Correctional Institution since last Jan. 5, was injected with cancerous tissue in an experiment at the penitentiary three years ago.

Maury C. Koblenz, chief of the Ohio Division of Correction, in announcing that Sheppard will be brought back here for medical tests, said prison physicians have "a very, very grave doubt" that the lump on his chest has anything to do with the cancer experiment.

Koblenz said Sheppard has "a swelling about the size of a penny" on his left chest and a swelling under his left armpit, the latter apparently caused by lymph glands.

Koblenz asserted that none of the 171 inmates who participated in the cancer test have shown any sign of cancer or any "major or serious reaction" from it.

Sheppard is a coach and member of the wrestling team at the Marion institution. Koblenz said Sheppard was kicked in the chest during a wrestling match May 12 but didn't report the lump until May 31.

Koblenz said doctors advised him that the lump could have been caused by a kick, an infection or a skin condition.

However, he added, all necessary tests will be made on Sheppard at Ohio Penitentiary, including probably a biopsy. A biopsy usually is made to determine if cancer exists. It involves taking a skin graft of the affected area and examining it microscopically.

On July 4, 1954, Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard 31, and expecting her second child, was bludgeoned fatally in the bedroom of her exclusive Bay Village home in suburban Cleveland.

Sheppard, then 32, has since steadfastly maintained that a "bushy haired intruder" killed his wife.

Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. His appeals have been carried all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court without success.

The former osteopath, whose mother committed suicide and whose father died shortly after the trial, is eligible for a parole hearing in 1965.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, also of Bay Village, said his brother "has a little lymphatic involvement. We don't know what it is. It could be trauma or from some other cause."

Another doctor brother, Stephen Sheppard, told the Chicago Tribune it was a "breast tumor."

The cancer experiment at the penitentiary in which Dr. Sam took part in 1958 involved injecting live cancer tissue into his left arm.

The test—to see if any of the 171 volunteers would contract cancer—was started in 1956 by the Sloan-Kettering Foundation of New York and the Ohio State University Medical Center.

'Ranger' Spaceship Due For U.S. Shot at Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will try to hit the moon early next year with an unmanned spaceship called "Ranger."

Space agency officials who told of the plans Thursday said the Ranger—10 feet tall and 750 pounds — will carry television equipment to transmit pictures of the moon's surface back to earth.

Rebel Group To Be Sent Back to U.S.

Fidel Wants Prisoners To Explain Why He Rejects Latest Offer

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro rejected today the latest offer of the Tractors for Freedom Committee but said he would send a delegation of captured rebels back to the United States to explain his position to the American public.

In the rejection, reported by Havana radio, Castro charged that the committee lied when it accused Castro of changing his position. He said the committee tried to confuse public opinion.

The Tractors for Freedom Committee had set a noon deadline today in a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum that capped nearly a month of negotiations.

The committee's final offer was to exchange the prisoners for 500 bulldozers of various types, mostly farm tractors.

It said that if Castro failed to accept, money received from contributors to the tractor fund would be returned to the senders.

The radio quoted Castro as saying that from the very beginning he had clearly specified the number and type of tractors he wanted.

Castro originally offered to exchange the men captured in the April-18 invasion of Cuba for 500 bulldozers. In his proposal, May 17, Castro used the English word "bulldozers."

After meeting in Havana with representatives of the Tractors for Freedom Committee, Castro said he would accept smaller types of tractors, but stipulated that he would have to get 1,000 of them, instead of 500.

Castro told the committee that "if we were prepared to accept smaller tractors, their value had to be equal to that of the 500 super V8s, with attachments, originally requested," the radio reported. The value of the heavy equipment has been estimated by Castro as $28 million.

In his reply to the committee today, the radio quoted Castro as saying the committee had been silent about an alternative proposal. That proposal, he said, was to abandon the tractor deal if the captured invaders were exchanged on a man-for-man basis for an equal number of "political prisoners" in the United States, Puerto Rico, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Spain.

Castro also said the committee had been silent about another proposal to exchange the invasion leaders for Francisco (the Hook) Molina, a pro-Castro Cuban who is awaiting sentencing in New York City on a second-degree murder charge.

Bloodmobile To Call in Williamsport

In an effort to replenish the supply of plasma at the Columbus Regional Blood Center, the Pickaway County Blood Program committee has scheduled an extra visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile in this area.

The blood unit will be at the Williamsport High School gymnasium from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday. The collection will be sponsored by the Williamsport Sorosis Club.

Red Cross chapter officials emphasized that the special visits will help the county meet its quota for the year. In 1961 so far, the Bloodmobile has collected 474 donations of a 520 pint quota.

Mrs. James Greenwood and Mrs. John West will serve as co-chairmen for the Williamsport drive. Chapter Spokesmen noted that some of the blood collected will probably be used Tuesday at University Hospital in several emergency surgery cases.

Williamsport residents may call YU 6-2011 for an appointment to give blood. Persons living in the Circleville exchange may sign up by calling GR 4-5736 or GR 4-3447.

Trone, a former instructor in Washington Twp. and Hamilton City Schools, has been studying at Miami for the past year. Rose, who resigned, had been at Madison School for 14 years.

In the Westfall School District, Russell McDill, sixth grade teacher at Atlanta, was elevated to principal and eighth grade instructor for the school.

Mysterious Plateau Is Goal Of South American Explorer

CORONA DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Adventurer Dana Lamb is headed back to the jungle—this time in search of the lost world that inspired Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous tale of 20th century dinosaurs.

An English explorer found a towering plateau in central South America in 1909, and his description led Doyle to write his 1912 story of adventure, "The Lost World."

Doyle's version peopled it with prehistoric monsters surviving into the present. Lamb isn't sure what he'll find, but he's convinced he can locate the plateau and somehow reach the top of it.

Lamb, 55, left this week by plane for Lima, Peru, to talk to Brian Fawcett, operator of a South American airline and son of Col. P. H. Fawcett.

It was Col. Fawcett who spotted the plateau from below, and wrote of it in notes later read by Doyle: "Time and the foot of man have not touched these summits. They stood like a lost world. The imagination could picture the last vestiges of an age long vanished."

From Lima, Lamb will proceed to Sao Paulo, Brazil, before pushing into the Mato Grosso jungle-land of southwest Brazil. He believes the lost plateau lies near the Bolivian border at the headwaters of the Rio Verde, a tributary to the distant Amazon.

Lamb's wife, Virginia, 47, will join him, probably in Sao Paulo, for the expedition.

Together the two paddled and sailed the length of Mexico in a canoe in 1938, and hiked the length of Mexico again in 1941 to search for an elusive "lost city of the Mayas." They wrote off-reprinted travel-adventure stories about both trips, and have lectured in all parts of the United States.

murder charge; Pedro Albizu Campos, a Puerto Rican nationalist leader who is under guard in a San Juan hospital, and Henry Winston, a jailed American Communist party leader.

The three invasion leaders are Capt. Manuel Artime, Jose San Roman, and Rafael Bolivar Fuentes.

The committee had asked Castro for a list of prisoners who would be subject to the exchange. The original number was 1,214 but Castro's list included only 1,167.

Today, the radio quoted Castro as saying the 1,167 were the only ones of the group who were innocent of crimes against the Cuban people.

Castro was further quoted as saying he had accepted the intervention of the Tractors for Freedom Committee because he considered the committee to be "decent and serious" since Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a member.

However, Castro said the committee's ultimatum showed its intention to break off negotiations and lay the blame exclusively on the Cuban government, the radio reported.

The committee already had ordered aides, barring a Castro acceptance, to return unopened to senders more than 60,000 pieces of mail that had piled up in P.O. Box Freedom in Detroit. Most of the mail was believed to contain public donations which the committee had asked.

The deadline was established after Castro told a four-member team of agricultural experts the committee sent to Cuba last week that he had in mind 500 heavy-duty tractors worth $28 million when he broached a willingness to swap anti-Castroists caught in an abortive April invasion aimed at his overthrow.

The committee had offered 500 light, farm-type tractors that would cost an estimated $2.5 to $3 million with plow attachments. It said in its ultimatum it had no intention of swapping heavy-duty tractors that could be converted to military uses.

The Light Side

The Red Cross sponsored swim program for local law enforcement agencies has been handicapped because of the cool weather. Sheriff's Deputies and City Patrolmen enrolled in the evening class were relieved last night when David Griner, swimming instructor, announced that the evening class would discontinue until July 21—Griner received a unison cheer from shivering swimmers.

Deputy Sheriff Dixie Watters says he has a problem! "Every time I open my eyes under water, I start to breathe," he told the instructor.

Other problems that face the instructors at the Ashville Pool are: "I can't float"; "I'm all fagged out"; "When is the class over" and "Man, it's cold."

For those who may be interested, Chief Temple isn't stricken with lumbago—he has sore muscles from his swimming lessons.

State Solons Rest Before Hectic Windup

Operating Budget Due For Senate Debate Sometime Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's state senators head for home late today—about 24 hours behind their colleagues from the House—for a brief respite before the hectic windup of this 6-month-old legislative session.

A much-amended version of the bill to provide funds for state government from July 1 of this year to June 30, 1963, was recommended out of the Senate Finance Committee Thursday. It comes up for a Senate floor vote next week, setting the stage for the windup of the session that began Jan. 2.

Before the 38 senators and 137 representatives call it quits, however, it's expected that there will be some wild activity as efforts are made to get bills through at the last moment.

Senators had a nine-bill calendar to deal with today. Included are House-approved bills defining an "historical vehicle" as one built on or before Dec. 31, 1926, and exempting licensed nurses, therapists and technicians at Ohio State University Hospital in Columbus from civil service rating.

The House technically was in session today, but actually most members went home Thursday. Only the officers and a handful of members stayed around in a skeleton session that legally could receive—but not act on—messages from the Senate.

Representatives postponed several actions until next week and adjourned an hour and a half Thursday. Among other things, action was postponed on a resolution calling for a study to see if Ohio's schools and colleges have adequate teaching materials to present a full picture of democracy versus communism.

The resolution resulted from the picketing of the Statehouse earlier in the year by some young persons in protest over U.S. involvement in the unsuccessful Cuban invasion.

Two Stark County representatives, Bernice K. MacKenzie, a Canton democrat, and James E. Thorpe, an Alliance Republican, submitted a resolution calling for an amendment to the state constitution.

An attempt to do away with so-called Blue Laws, it would state: "No laws shall be passed or enforced which abridge or prevent the pursuit or transaction of any business, otherwise legal, on any day of the week; provided that the sale of intoxicating liquor may be prohibited or restricted."

The proposal would have to be passed on by voters at a general election. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle contends all such Sunday activities should be made legal, except unnecessary ones, and may send a message to the legislature.

"The celebration will be the highlight of my two years' experience in the United States," Fitzjohn said.

Plot Bared To Kill Adlai

Argentine Extremists Wound U.S. Guard

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York World-Telegram and Sun reported Thursday a group of extremists plotted to kill United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson on his recent visit to Buenos Aires.

The newspaper also reported that a U.S. security guard, who had conferred with Argentine police about the alleged assassination attempt, was shot and critically wounded by gunmen four days after Stevenson left.

The newspaper gave this account:

"A few days before Mr. Stevenson arrived in Argentina on June 7, Buenos Aires police were tipped off that there might be an attempt. "Communists and supporters of ousted dictator Juan Peron had joined forces for an anti-American demonstration during the Stevenson visit.

"A few of the most fanatic Peronistas allegedly decided to assassinate the ambassador in order to create an international incident that would damage the government of President Arturo Frondizi.

"A police roundup of Peronista extremists began and maximum security measures were taken to protect Mr. Stevenson. No attempt on his life was made. The plotters went into hiding.

"Among those who worked on the security arrangements was James Lecinsky, a U.S. Marine attached to the American Embassy in Buenos Aires. Mr. Lecinsky reportedly conferred with Argentine police about the assassination plot.

"At 6 a.m. on June 12, four days after Mr. Stevenson left Argentina Mr. Lecinsky was overtaken by gunmen on Avenue Libertador General San Martin, in downtown Buenos Aires near the foreign ministry. Two or more in a car pulled alongside him and opened fire with machine pistols.

"Hit several times, he was rushed to a downtown hospital for emergency treatment and then was quietly transferred to a private hospital in the suburb of La Plata."

The newspaper said Lecinsky had been unconscious ever since.

Shea Advises Vets on Loans

James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veteran's Service Officer, has issued a definitive statement concerning pre-payment of GI loans.

Shea said on many conventional loans, it is impossible to pay off any part of a loan in advance without being assessed a penalty.

Shea emphasized that "This is not so with a GI home loan." He noted that the law provides that an ex-serviceman may pay off his loan without penalty on any regular payment date.

He noted that the extra amount could not be less than $100 or one monthly payment, whichever is smaller.

Shea reminded veterans that each time the principal of a GI loan is reduced, the interest payments go down in proportion.

Akron Jailer Spots Attempt to Escape

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An attempt to break out of the Summit County jail through an air vent leading to the roof was discovered late Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Ivory, a jailer.

Ivory was making a routine check when he spotted a cache of bricks dug out of a wall in a sixth-floor cell. The bricks had been removed from a passageway behind Cell 2 of Range 6, which opens to a vent leading to the roof.

In a shakedown of the 14 prisoners in the range, deputies found the legs of two iron bunks which had been used to dig mortar from between the bricks.

Sheriff Robert Campbell said charges of attempted jail break would be filed against Billy Wills, 23; Earl Greathouse, 18, and Patrick Moon, 18, all of Akron, who occupied Cell 2.

Welcome Mat Becomes Dusty

There are some realistic considerations which the average U. S. citizen cannot ignore if he travels overseas. One is that in some lands the welcome mat has become a bit dusty.

If the eagerness with which the dollar is courted in international circles has not diminished, there is a decidedly cold air in some parts of the world which seems to suggest it would be preferable if the dollar did not have to come from American pockets.

Then, too, there is the matter of life insurance. American life insurance companies have heard the rumblings in the hinterland and reached their own conclusions. One of the results is as much as $10 additional premium for every $1,000 of protection to those contemplating a trip to Africa.

Policies at any cost for travelers to Cuba, Laos or Red China are unheard of, and a few more countries may soon join this list. The family of premium countries compiled by the Institute of Life Insurance speaks more eloquently of the status of the world today, and America's influence in it, than all the political pronouncements.

Glancing down the list of risk countries for Americans, it is not surprising to note that lands considered most hazardous are the ones being softened for eventual Soviet domination through the usual mediums of riot, provoked civil war, half-pint dictators and intermittent Russian threats and offers of non-existent aid.

Once a nation has succumbed to Soviet pressures and joined its satellite empire, disorders miraculously subside and it again becomes a safe place for Americans to visit, providing no act more overt than bringing in a few dollars is contemplated. This is why Moscow, the seat of the international communist conspiracy, can be visited without additional insurance premium if the visitor is traveling "for a specific business purpose."

For up to date soundings in lands where human freedoms are engaged in a life or death struggle, Washington does not need eye witness reports from returning officials. All it needs is a life insurance adviser.

Marigold Snatcher Spotted

By FRANCIS STILLEY (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—As pumpkinhead amateur gardeners go, I just about wear batty—trying to solve the mystery of my vanishing marigolds.

It's a goofy story, though when I tell it I get the impression people think it's me who's goofy. Here's what happened:

I started some small marigolds in pots in the house. When they got about three inches tall, I transplanted them to the postage-stamp-sized garden in front of my apartment.

I basked in a warm glow of satisfaction, knowing that not only my marigolds but the petunias, zinnias, cosmos, and pansies all were going to do well this year.

After all, put 100 pounds of peat moss, two bushels of humus and gallons of a super-duper liquid-growth mixture into my 1-100,000th of an acre.

A few days after transplanting the small marigolds, I discovered they were disappearing one by one. The peculiar part was that they had been snapped off cleanly at the stem about an inch above ground.

At first, I thought perhaps stray boomerangs from neighbor children had done it. But this is a 30-30 year.

Then, while sitting on the front porch one night, was sure I had the answer. Several stray cats threw a party in my garden, all but wrecking a fine clump of pinks before I could break up the festivities.

This explanation didn't hold up either, unfortunately. The marigolds kept disappearing—but now, roots and all, without a trace left.

At dusk a few days ago came the astonishing revelation. While standing in front of the house, chatting with a neighbor lady who hadn't planted any marigolds in her garden, my eye happened to fall on my own botanical wonderland.

A bird about the size of a robin was just yanking out another of the marigolds. And zoom!—like a Redstone rocket it went whizzing right by me, clutching my marigold in its pesky beak. In a few seconds, it was out of sight behind buildings across the street.

Some Enjoy Going Broke

Professor Robert Triffin of Yale writes with wisdom on how to go broke. Of course, it is not essential to go broke. This is most often avoidable, but some set out to do it without much thought of the aftermath.

There are even those who enjoy going broke, spending their way through life until nothing is left for them but to make a touch.

So the learned professor does an essay on the subject with apt applications to what has happened and is happening to the American dollar because of the improvident spending of our money. Professor Triffin says:

"There are two ways to go broke: a slow one and a fast one. The slow way is to go on, years after year, spending more money than you earn. But if you are rich to begin with you won't go broke very fast that way. You will pay for your overspending by depleting your bank balance and other assets and by getting loans from

You're Telling Me!

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

Lone star state voters have just elected a Republican, a chap by the name of Tower, to the United States Senate. To Milt, the sterling printer, he sounds as though he may be another of those tall Texans.

Those Chicago White Sox and Chicago Cubs baseball clubs appear determined to prove it's possible for a city to be in last place twice at the same time.

It was, of course, too much to give away; so the dollar depreciated in value. We were not conscious of this in the United States because we did not go hungry here. The country was rich. The people were well off. We have a high standard of living. Nevertheless, economics walked its harsh way without regard to human enthusiasms and the result was that our gold supply began to disappear. As a short-cut solution some bankers proposed that we withdraw the small gold protection that the American dollar has — a ridiculous proposal which would not have been made by those great men of Wall Street who rejected Populism and free silver and other attempts to cheapen the American dollar.

Those who believe in cheap money suffer from the aberration that the more money you have the richer you are. This is only true if the money has value. If, for instance, a currency stands at, let us say, 288 to the dollar, it means that a fellow who has $100's worth of it has 28,800 of that currency. Looking at it, 28,800 is more than 100 but it is worth more?

I can remember when $25 a week was a very good pay for a secretary who could take stenography, spell, add a column of figures, and say, "Good Morning", politely. A

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

"Tennis elbow? Impossible! I never leave my workshop!"

It doesn't matter whether you're hammering nails, driving off the first golf tee or smashing back a forehand drive. When the sudden shock wrenches your wrist, it can tear muscles on the outside of your elbow.

Your hand and forearm lose their power. Bending your fingers pulls the torn muscles, sending twinges up the arm.

When you shake hands, your hand dangles like a wet fish. Your weak grasp can't even hold tennis balls.

When you hold your arm out, palm down, and clench your fist, bending the wrist launches lightning pains up the elbow. And yet a tiny injection of Novocain can numb this agony.

Splints that hold the arm palm down, with wrist bent up, rest the muscle so it can mend. But even when heat and diathermy rush repairs, tennis elbow may linger long after the season's over.

Sluggish healing calls for a doctor's help!

Tennis leg can strike when you race upstairs. With the ball of your foot on a step, and your weight pushing down the heel, calf muscles rip and tear.

Tennis players tear their calf muscles when they land flat on their feet with leg muscles tense.

Your calf feels like it's been hit by a stone. The muscle bleeds and swells. As this fluid falls down the leg, your ankle bulges black and blue.

Large muscle tears often require casts — although Novocain seems to streamline treatment without any cast.

Tennis leg refers to a torn tiny "plantaris" muscle deep in the calf. Unneeded by humans, the plantaris helps monkeys grasp with their toes.

THEY SAY THAT Mel Allen, famous sports announcer, played ball in college. In his freshman year, he was wont to chase a fly ball, yelling, "I got it!"—then drop it. But Mel majored in English, and in his senior year had progressed to the point where he'd circle under a fly ball shouting "I have it!"—and then drop it.

Have you ever climbed the hills of San Francisco or ascended in one of the famous old cable cars? If you have, you will appreciate this boast of its natives: "The great thing about our city is that when you get tired of it, you can always lean against it."

It was a farmer with a philosophic turn of mind who observed, "Hens are such perverse creatures. When eggs are cheap they lay continuously. But when eggs are high you can't get an egg out of them!"

Lone star state voters have just elected a Republican, a chap by the name of Tower, to the United States Senate. To Milt, the sterling printer, he sounds as though he may be another of those tall Texans.

Those Chicago White Sox and Chicago Cubs baseball clubs appear determined to prove it's possible for a city to be in last place twice at the same time.

It was, of course, too much to give away; so the dollar depreciated in value. We were not conscious of this in the United States because we did not go hungry here. The country was rich. The people were well off. We have a high standard of living. Nevertheless, economics walked its harsh way without regard to human enthusiasms and the result was that our gold supply began to disappear. As a short-cut solution some bankers proposed that we withdraw the small gold protection that the American dollar has — a ridiculous proposal which would not have been made by those great men of Wall Street who rejected Populism and free silver and other attempts to cheapen the American dollar.

Those who believe in cheap money suffer from the aberration that the more money you have the richer you are. This is only true if the money has value. If, for instance, a currency stands at, let us say, 288 to the dollar, it means that a fellow who has $100's worth of it has 28,800 of that currency. Looking at it, 28,800 is more than 100 but it is worth more?

"Tennis elbow? Impossible! I never leave my workshop!"

It doesn't matter whether you're hammering nails, driving off the first golf tee or smashing back a forehand drive. When the sudden shock wrenches your wrist, it can tear muscles on the outside of your elbow.

Your hand and forearm lose their power. Bending your fingers pulls the torn muscles, sending twinges up the arm.

When you shake hands, your hand dangles like a wet fish. Your weak grasp can't even hold tennis balls.

When you hold your arm out, palm down, and clench your fist, bending the wrist launches lightning pains up the elbow. And yet a tiny injection of Novocain can numb this agony.

Splints that hold the arm palm down, with wrist bent up, rest the muscle so it can mend. But even when heat and diathermy rush repairs, tennis elbow may linger long after the season's over.

Sluggish healing calls for a doctor's help!

Tennis leg can strike when you race upstairs. With the ball of your foot on a step, and your weight pushing down the heel, calf muscles rip and tear.

Tennis players tear their calf muscles when they land flat on their feet with leg muscles tense.

Your calf feels like it's been hit by a stone. The muscle bleeds and swells. As this fluid falls down the leg, your ankle bulges black and blue.

Large muscle tears often require casts — although Novocain seems to streamline treatment without any cast.

Tennis leg refers to a torn tiny "plantaris" muscle deep in the calf. Unneeded by humans, the plantaris helps monkeys grasp with their toes.

THEY SAY THAT Mel Allen, famous sports announcer, played ball in college. In his freshman year, he was wont to chase a fly ball, yelling, "I got it!"—then drop it. MR. AND MRS. JOHN McCONNELL, MR. AND MRS. ERNEST LINDSEY

Double Wedding Solemnized Saturday In St. Joseph's Catholic Church

The first double wedding ever to be performed in St. Joseph's Catholic Church united Miss Anna Lou Lindsey and Mr. John Paul McConnell and Miss Shirley Joyce Dawson and Mr. Ernest Grant Lindsey in a double ring ceremony at 10:15 a. m. Saturday.

This is also the first double wedding Msgr. George Mason has performed in his 25 years of priesthood. The ceremony took place before an altar decorated with white glads, pompoms and snapdragons. Miss Anna Lindsey and Mr. Lindsey are the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene B. Lindsey, 119

Collins Court. Mr. McConnell is the son of Mrs. Floyd Stonerock, Florida. Miss Dawson is the daughter of Mrs. Richard Dawson, 166 Watt St.

Nuptial High Mass was sung by the St. Joseph's School choir accompanied by Miss Eleanor Snyder at the organ.

Miss Lindsey, escorted by her father, and Miss Dawson, escorted by her brother-in-law Mr. Joseph Katulak, approached the altar in identical white length gowns of white nylon lace fashioned with a scooped neckline three and quarter length sleeves accented with a fitted bodice.

The very bouffant skirts were made apron style, opening in the back to reveal row after row of white nylon tulle ruffles.

Their veils of illusion were held by a crown of seed pearls and iridescent. They both carried bouquets of a dozen white roses.

Miss Kathalee Lindsey served as maid of honor for her sister and Miss Mary Susa attended Miss Dawson.

They wore identical ice blue gowns accented in the back with a double fold of chiffon flowing to the hemline.

Each carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations.

Junior bridesmaids were Misses Connie Lindsey and Sharon Dawson. Miss Lindsey wore a pale blue dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Dawson wore an orchid dress and also carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. James McConnell served as best man for his brother. Mr. Linden Gibson served for Mr. Lindsey. Ushers were Mr. Roger McConnell and Mr. Terry Dean.

For her children's wedding, Mrs. Lindsey was attired in a pale blue dress with a pale yellow rose corsage.

Mrs. Dawson wore a dress of dusty rose with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church reception room. The serving table held the two three-tier wedding cakes surrounded with a garden of red, yellow and white roses.

Flanked on either side with candles, hostesses were Phyllis Peters, Katy Lindsey, Mrs. Joseph Katulak and Miss Mary Susa.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. McConnell will reside at 1025 S. Pickaway St.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

It's a Sure Bet, Honey!

DEAR ABBY: What future is there for a young man, 24, who lives to gamble? It started out to be a hobby, but now it is his full-time occupation. He has ideas that are out of this world when it comes to making a fortune gambling. He is good-looking, well-liked, and educated. He says he has studied the odds, and he gambles "scientifically," so he can never lose. He claims he has read extensively on "the psychology of gambling." So far he has been lucky. But do you think a girl can be happy with a man who makes his living this way?

GAMBLER'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: The "psychology of gambling" is not very complicated. It is the science of trying to get something for nothing. Don't bet on a gambler. You are a cinch to lose.

DEAR ABBY: Why does a mere wife think she has special privileges? Everyone knows "Till death do us part" is old-fashioned. If a wife can't hold her husband, why doesn't she get out?

I was married and had one child, aged 4. I fell in love with another man. We worked together. He was married in name only. His wife was older than he was. He married young and didn't know the score.

We planned to get divorces and marry. He wanted to wait. I did not, so I divorced my husband. My boy friend stalled. So I phoned his wife and let her know that I was in the picture. I wrote her letters telling her everything. I also parked outside her house, wanting to talk to her in person, but she ignored me. My boy friend started feeling sorry for his wife and told me to lay off. I refused. Then he finally gave me the old excuse about his wife being sickly, and his children needing him. My home is broken up because I believed his lies, so why should I give him up without a fight? I owe her nothing.

THE OTHER WOMAN
DEAR WOMAN: There is no man to "fight" for. He has given YOU up. To paraphrase your own words, "If a woman can't steal another's husband, why doesn't she lay off?" Look for a man in your league.

DEAR ABBY: A bunch of catty women wrote in asking you if their neighbor, who went to barber college to learn how to cut her husband's hair, carried a hot lunch to his place of work every day instead of packing him a sandwich, never disagreed or argued with him, and always called him "Sweetheart" and "Baby", was the ideal wife, or were the rest of them just "average slob." And your answer, Dear Abby didn't sound like you. Tell me the truth, do you write your own column every day? Or were you on vacation?

ABBY FAN
DEAR FAN: I write my own column every day. And I never go on vacation. If I said that woman was anything but an ideal wife, I must have had a geranium in my cranium. Forgive me?

Do you count the candles on your birthday cake? Why bother? Once you're past sweet sixteen, it doesn't matter how many candles you're entitled to. What counts is what you're doing with those years.

The years that are past have burned themselves out. Perhaps they have been all you've wanted them to be—but, if you're like most of us, maybe you could have made them a little better.

One of God's greatest gifts is the marvelous fact that it's never too late to begin again.

Birthdays remind us of the passing of time, of a new life. Celebrate your birthday by giving. Give something of yourself, by going to your church and taking part in its activities, especially those that help others. Next year, the added candle on your cake will burn with a special brightness!

The Fruits of Faith

CHARACTERISTICS WHICH RESULT FROM A FOCUS ON LOVE AND THE WORD OF GOD

Scripture—James 1:21-22; 5; Galatians 5:22-23.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
MUCH of this lesson is taken from the Epistle of James.

In the New Testament we find three men called James;
the author of this book is most probably the brother of Christ Himself. Not mentioned often in the Gospels, he was nevertheless an influential member of the early church in Jerusalem, writing about 51 A.D.

His orthodox Judaism is apparent in the many precepts, exhortations and quotes from the Old Testament. Imbued with the spirit of Christ transforming these traditional precepts with love, the book carries very little direct reference to Christ.
(Wilbur Smith in "Peloubet's Select Notes.")

The effect of Christianity on the pagan world is beautifully illustrated in the lesson's first renders them low in spirit to begin with. This is a result of wanting to impress people.

In the second passage on riches (James 5:1-6), James points out the worthlessness of wealth accumulated at the expense of others. The rust of their gold and silver is "a witness against (them)"; gains gotten by fraud are eventually repulsive to the owner, "eat(ing) (his) flesh as it were fire," if only on Judgment Day.
Furthermore, this sin is compounded by prodigal spending, with money going to frivolous luxuries rather than to helping those less fortunate (James 5:5-6). It is easy to forget what desperately poor conditions exist in this world.

The most challenging passage for interpretation is James 2:5-26. In this we see clearly one side of the great argument

GOLDEN TEXT

"Faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself."—James 2:17.

passage. It exalts the quality of meekness, first in relation to God, and through that, to other men.

The pagan world gave respect, instead, to a more egotistical boldness, almost arrogance.

One must hear and "receive"
God's word, but it doesn't stop there; one must also be a "doer of the word, and not (a) hearer only." Otherwise, to the first sin of not acting like a Christian (by "doing" the word), is added the fact that one has a falsely high opinion of himself, deceiv-ing himself.

Two passages in the lesson deal with the evils of wealth.
The first (James 2:1-7) is a rebuke to those who give to those who already have instead of to those who need it. How often in our world are the wealthy given the morale-boosting deference, rather than those whose poverty on faith versus works, as James presents the case for good works.

The opposite view is most ably presented by Paul, who claims that a man "is justified by faith without the deeds of the law" (Rom. 3:28).

James is more concerned with hypocrisy, attacking those who listen to sermons as a sort of game, failing to translate words into actions.

Protestant sects have split over this question of faith versus works. However, the two need not be mutually exclusive.
Paul says, in effect, that the truly faithful are justified before God, regardless of their merits as judged by their fellow men.

James, speaking from a different point of view, attacks the orthodoxy which says, but doesn't do—the unchurchly churchgoers.

National Manpower Council Chief Is Small, Trim Brunette

NEW YORK (AP)—When you read that the new director of the National Manpower Council is a woman, do you immediately picture a formidable female armed with horn-rimmed glasses, statistics, Ph.D. degrees and no-nonsense efficiency?

Then Bryna Ball would come as a surprise. She's a small, trim brunette—feminine, friendly, and youthful-looking. She never studied economics; in fact, she never finished college. And her efficiency is the comfortable, cluttered-desk kind.

"I was lucky," she says. "The fact I was a woman and, among other limitations, didn't have a degree, didn't keep the council from recognizing what I could do and giving me a chance to do it."

She smiles, waves her hand to include the surrounding Columbia University campus visible through her office's open windows, and says: "It's fascinating, not having a degree in a world increasingly conscious of degrees, and to find oneself working in a setting where so much weight is put on them."

Miss Ball has been working with the council since 1953, two years after it was established by the Ford Foundation.

Three years ago she became associate director.
One and a half years ago she married her boss, Dr. Henry David.

When Dr. David resigned as director recently to take over the presidency of the New School for Social Research, Miss Ball was appointed to succeed him by the council's 16 members, all distinguished people in the fields of industry, labor, public service and education.

"The council," she explains, "is a policy - influencing group. It studies important manpower problems and contributes to the better development and utilization of the nation's manpower resources.
Our studies stimulate action by many kinds of groups."

Cleveland Trust

Target of Pickets

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two offices of the Cleveland Trust Co. were picketed Wednesday by representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in protest against alleged discriminatory hiring policies and home loan practices.

Cleveland Trust President George Gund said in a statement that the bank has had a number of Negroes in its employ for more than 40 years.

Clarence Holmes, president of the NAACP Cleveland Chapter, said that while it is true that Cleveland Trust hires Negroes,
"with one exception all of them are hired in menial capacities and they do not upgrade the ones they have."

Senate Panel Adds Private School Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Education subcommittee today wrote into the extension bill of the National Defense Education Act provision for loans to private schools for classrooms.

This marked the first step in a plan of Senate Democratic leaders to get such aid for church schools enacted into law this year.

The House is working in the same direction. Action on a measure for public-school aid is held up in that chamber until its Education Committee comes up with a bill containing such provisions as the Senate subcommittee approved today. The House committee showed new signs of going along with that program.

Clevelanders To Bow to Ohio Blue Law

CLEVELAND (AP)—Giant Tiger discount stores in Cleveland and suburban Euclid will be closed Sundays starting immediately, it was announced today.

A firm spokesman said the decision was made in connection with the controversy on Sunday blue laws.

H. H. Felsman, attorney for the firm called the blue laws obsolete and unfair. He said the firm would do everything in its lawful power to have the laws repealed or revised.

Five warrants issued against Giant Tiger stores have been "held in abeyance" until next Monday. City officials said the warrants would have been served if the stores remained open.

Earlier this week the Supreme Court refused to review a case involving a Giant Tiger store, thus upholding Ohio courts that sustained the Cleveland conviction in 1959.

Plans to ask Gov. Michael V.
DiSalle to convene a special session of the legislature to repeal or revise the Ohio Sunday closing law were announced Wednesday by the Lawson Milk Co.

Chamber Squad Wins, 13-3 On Four Blows

Victors Chalk Up 6 Runs in Third Without Base Hits

Counting eight runs over a two-inning spread without a single safe hit, the Chamber of Commerce Babe Ruth Major League outfit beat Kiwanis 13-3 last night at Ted Lewis Park.

The home K Club nine fared no better, hitwise, getting a quartet of base knocks, three in one inning.

Each team produced one safety in the opening frame, and neither squad could cash in for a run.

Winning moundsman Jeff Lutz blanked the Kiwanians through the second and third stanzas. At the same interval, his teammates took advantage of nine walks from losing hurler Dave Green, five Kiwanis fielding boots and two passed balls to plate two men in the second and six big runs in the third.

THE Chamber aggregation combined singles by Lutz and Steve Smith with two more walks and another pair of miscues to tally three scores.

Kiwanis mustered its only scoring drive in the bottom of the fourth frame. Junior Tootle, Dade and Wendall Lovett racked up back-to-back singles after Harry Hill had walked to lead off the inning. Lutz steadied after the brief show of power and retired the next three batters in order to permit only three runs.

Ron Cook slammed out the last Chamber hit in the top of the last inning. It was good for two runs-batted-in and the last of the 13-run attack.

Winner Lutz whiffed Martin and Hill and got Tootle on an infield out after walking Mike Spangler to end the contest.

In all, C of C was the beneficiary of eight Kiwanis errors and 15 walks issued by Green and reliever Spangler. Lutz surrendered but three free trips and his teammates played one-error ball behind him. He struck out five opponents.

Redlegs Increase Lead in National Loop to 2 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Reds defeated St. Louis 7-5 Thursday night for a two-game lead in the National League pennant race after the second place Los Angeles Dodgers lost 7-5 to the Chicago Cubs. The Dodgers open a three-game series at Cincinnati tonight.

Milwaukee spilled third place San Francisco four games from the top by beating the Giants 8-5. And Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 5-1.

The Reds, out-hit 8-6 by the Cards, came from behind with two unearned runs in the fourth inning, then wrapped it up with a three-run sixth off loser Larry Jackson (3-7).

George Altman, Billy Williams and Jerry Kindall each hit home runs and drove in two runs as the Cubs beat the Dodgers for only the third time in 12 games. The Dodgers, who had homers by John Roseboro, Daryl Spencer and Duke Snider, blew a 4-1 lead.

The fifth place Braves, winning four in a row for the first time, hammered five home runs, two by Frank Thomas, while putting away a three-game sweep over the Giants.

Two home runs by catcher Smoky Burgess drove in the Pirates' first four runs. Both shots were off John Buzhardt (2-8), who hit Burgess with a pitch in his third trip to the plate and was handed an automatic $50 "bean-ball fine."

The Detroit Tigers retained a one-game lead in the American League with a 6-4 victory at Washington Thursday night while the second place New York Yankees, with Whitey Ford winning his 12th and Roger Maris hitting his 27th home run, breezed past Kansas City 8-3. The victory also gave the Tigers a three-game bulge over idle Cleveland as they head into a four-game series against the third place Indians tonight.

Baltimore beat Minnesota 8-2 and Boston defeated the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in the only other games scheduled Thursday night.

Maris hit a pair of doubles and a single in addition to the homer, a three-run shot off loser Norm Bass (4-6) that capped a five-run second inning for the Yankees. It was Maris' 15th home run in June, three shy of the major league record.

Consecutive doubles by Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash cracked a 4-4 tie in the seventh inning for the Tigers, who twice had to come from behind before handing the Senators their sixth straight defeat.

Gus Triandos drove in five runs with three hits, two of them doubles, as the Orioles beat the Twins and southpaw Jim Kaat (2-7).

There were 15 bases on balls but only five hits in Boston's squeaker at Los Angeles. The Red Sox, behind the two-hit pitching of rookie Galen Gisco and winning reliever Mike Fornieles (5-3), won it on a third-inning single by Chuck Schilling.

Leading riders at Garden State Park racetrack in 1960 were Bill Hartack in the spring and John Sellers in the fall.

The Florida Racing Commission has approved Gulfstream's 1962 dates. The meeting runs from March 5 through April 23.

Some Fishing In Ohio Said 'Excellent'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's fishing conditions range from very good to poor, but some "excellent" catches have been reported to the Division of Wildlife.

Here are the conditions by areas, as listed by the division:

Northwestern Ohio — Lake St. Marys is in fair condition as is Oxbow, and bass, bluegills and crappies are making up most of the catch. Most of the streams are roily and high and fishing reported as rather poor.

East Central and Southeastern — Fishing is only fair. Burr Oak Lake reports good bass and bluegill fishing and Seneca has been furnishing good bluegill and crappie fishing. Most of the major streams including the Muskingum, Hocking and Walhonding are in rather poor condition.

Central and Southern — Best fishing is in Delaware County. Alum Creek and Big Walnut are both perfect for fishing and some nice catches of smallmouth bass are being made. Both Hoover and O'Shaughnessy reservoirs are giving up good catches. Parts of Buck

No. 4 Team Tops Thursday League

The No. 4 outfit outdistanced all rivals in the latest Thursday Night League results at Circle D Lanes. They recorded 942 singles and 2,598 series scores to lead in both departments.

Faye Weethe copped individual singles honors with 198. Mary Betts proved the best in three-game play, shooting a high count of 489.

Mary Pabst had a rugged night on setups, but still brought down 5-7, 3-7-10 and 3-10 splits. Mary McLoughlin dropped the 5-6-10 split.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Golf Professional Ralph Haas of the Transit Valley Country club scored the season's first hole-in-one at the course when he holed a 177-yard 3-iron shot.

Presbyterian Bible School Completed

The Presbyterian Church, yesterday, completed a series of Church Days for the children during which Vacation Bible School materials were used.

The boys and girls have spent Tuesday and Thursday of the last three weeks at the church. Pre-school children were dismissed at noon, but the older children had full days of classes.

During one class day, the children were taken to homes of parishioners and lessons were conducted in the manner of a day camp.

The theme for study was Jesus Christ, Bible stories, memory work, worship, and activities were presented on a graded level.

THE Kindergarten Department was conducted by Mrs. Paul Valentine, Mrs. James Carr, Mrs. John Jefferies, Mrs. Don Greenlee and Mrs. Frank Demjen.

Listed among the Primary Department's activities were a large diorama of the Sea of Galilee, a hospital visit and a farm mission study. Mrs. William Sprout, Mrs. Merle Turner and Mrs. Carl Hooky were leaders of this group.

The Junior Class supplemented its study with the making of picture maps and puppets. Mrs. Emerson Spicer, Mrs. Carl Burger, Mrs. Lincoln Mader and Miss Alice Dawson guided the department.

The Junior - High Class was added this year. To emphasize the theme "We Would See Jesus" they used dramatizations, puppets and a map illustrated with small dioramas. Leather tooling and ceramics completed the project. Mrs. Alfred Johnson, the Rev. Donald Mitchell, and Mrs. William Sprague were the teachers of this group.

The director of the school was Mrs. Edward Grigg. Planning was supervised by Mrs. Donald Vogel, chairman of Children's activities of the Christian Education Committee.

Assisting with the nursery were Martha Kay Thomas, Sharon Yost, Nancy Yates and Mrs. Carl Benhase.

Mrs. Donald Mitchell, Lynn Richelderfer, George Grigg and John Grigg and John Davis were on the office staff. Mrs. Thomas Downing helped with music. Mrs. Philip Hines and Mrs. William Camp managed the lunch room.

Threshers To Parley

BRYAN, Ohio (AP) — Members of the National Threshers Association from 25 states and Canada, plus about 25,000 spectators, are meeting at the Williams County Fairgrounds in nearby Montpelier today and Saturday.

Derby News

Attendance at Derby Church Sunday was 112. There were many fathers present and the oldest, the youngest, and the father with the most children present received a remembrance.

The congregation was entertained by the children who attended the Vacation Bible classes the past week. After the service the handwork of these pupils was on display in the Fellowship Hall.

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Deyo, Danny, Mike, Linda and Shawn, of Ft. Wayne, Indiana are spending a few weeks with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Deyo.

Friends of Mrs. Eva Clark of near Mt. Sterling, formerly of here, will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Clark spent the past 10 days taking a motor trip to Colorado Springs, Colo. They visited many interesting places on the way. Accompanying them were their niece, Miss Susan Yoakem, and their grandson, David Gallimore.

Mrs. Shirley Wardell was host to a Stanley Party in her home on June 13. Several from here were present.

The condition of Mrs. Freda Kissel remains the same. Also friends will be sorry to hear that her mother, Mrs. Agnes Mattheaesis, also is a patient in Mansfield General hospital suffering from a recent fall.

Last Sunday Miss Grace Minshall enjoyed dinner with Mrs. Bertha Graham. In the afternoon they motored to Columbus for an evening luncheon with Mrs. Pauline Dailey.

Mrs. Linnie Funk who has been ill in Mt. Carmel hospital for sometime has been returned to the home of her son, Mr. Howard Funk, of Mt. Sterling and her condition is slowly improving.

Mrs. A. K. Sweet and daughter, Susi, visited in Columbus last Friday at the home of Mrs. Minnie Houck and later called on Mrs. Mildred Gleeson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Liston of Columbus were dinner guests of Mrs. Bertha Graham last Wednesday.

On Father's Day a supper was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kit Roberts. Present were Mrs. Beulah Harris and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roberts and children and Mrs. Kit Carson Roberts Jr. and children. An enjoyable evening prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grabill and daughter Carole entertained guests on June 10. They were Mr. and Mrs. Wade Huffman and son, Ralph and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huffman, all of Grove City. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gossard and family spent Monday with the Grabills. Miss Carole Grabill is attending the Capital School of Beauty Culture.

Local Students Participate in Depauw Program

Three Circleville students will go to Depauw University, Greencastle, Ind., Sunday to participate in the Junior Engineers' and Scientists' Summer Institute.

Local students accepted for the institute are John Adkins, 144 Montclair Ave.; Valerie Hamilton, 1063 Georgia Road and Stephanie Hedges, 339 Wood Lane.

Sponsored by Midwestern business and industrial firms and "Scientists of Tomorrow," a non-profit organization, the two-week institute from June 25 through July 8, will include 165 high school junior and senior boys and girls from 15 states and one foreign country.

The session, in its third year, is designed to give students an insight into the curriculum a career in engineering or science would demand an introduction to at least 10 courses of study which offer opportunities for vocations in the sciences or engineering.

Rotary Told Of Many Uses Salt Provides

The history and multitude of uses of salt was the subject of an interesting talk and film presented to members of the Circleville Rotary Club during yesterday's noon meeting.

Presenting the address and movie was Gilbert F. Martin, Dayton, division sales promotion manager of the Morton Salt Co.

Martin described salt as the "white wonder of the world". He explained that the commodity has 14,000 uses.

The speaker said salt polices the human body and keeps all chemical fluids in balance. He also told of the many industrial uses of the white product.

MARTIN'S film offered an accurate description of the processing of salt. It showed the initial steps in mining and additional phases until the product is ready for consumption and industrial use.

Martin has been associated with the Morton Co. for 38 years, and has been a business caller in Circleville for 35 years.

Three Violators On Munny Listing

The Circleville Municipal Court docket showed only three traffic violators cases today.

Rex Wilder Donohoe, 69, Springfield, forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of passing a stop sign.

Gale E. Myers, 28, Route 4, was fined $15 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone. Both arrests were made by the State Highway Patrol.

Leroy Denny, 951 S. Pickaway St., was fined $2 and costs for failure to pay an overtime parking ticket. The court costs were suspended.
